The Accu-Chek Mobile blood glucose monitoring system

Pairing the Accu-Chek Mobile meter with the mySugr app and how to transfer data

4 simple steps to check your blood glucose

Open the cover.
The meter turns on.

Press the lancing device firmly against the selected puncture site to obtain a blood drop.

To apply the blood drop to the test area: Position your finger gently on the guidance tabs so that only the blood drop comes into contact with the test area between the guidance tabs.

Read the result and close the tip cover. The meter turns off.

How to get connected and transfer data:

Step 1.
Download the mySugr app* for free

Available on the App Store

Get it on Google play

Step 2. Plug in the Accu-Chek Mobile wireless adapter

1. Remove the USB-port cover from your Accu-Chek Mobile meter.

2. Now simply plug the adapter into the USB port of your Accu-Chek Mobile meter. Make a note of the serial number found of the inside facing edge of the adapter.

3. Activate Bluetooth® on your smartphone.

4. Press the button on the adapter. The green LED will then flash quickly.

Step 3. Pair the Accu-Chek Mobile meter with the mySugr app

1. Initial pairing: Open the mySugr app. Tap on menu and then tap on "Connections".

Select "Accu-Chek Mobile".

2. Now enter in the last six digits of serial number, which can be found on the inside-facing edge of the adapter as well as on the packaging.

3. The initial data transfer then starts automatically. The green LED flashes slowly during this process.

As soon as the data transfer is complete, the LED will stop flashing and show constant green light. The adapter will turn itself off automatically.

4. During subsequent regular use: Measure your blood sugar as you normally do. Activate Bluetooth® on your smartphone.

Then press the button on the adapter to start data transfer. The green LED will flash quickly.
